

DEATH SENTENCE ON MUTINEERS COMMUTED

Russian Authorities Feared Outbreak if Soldiers Were Executed--Meetings Dispersed by Police and Cossacks.

(Associated Press.)

Tiflis, July 9.—The military tribunal, realizing the tremendous fomentation in the garrison here, has set off with light punishment the twenty-seven mutineers who had been sentenced to be shot because they refused to fire on the populace during the disturbances of last March.

Thirteen of them were sentenced to imprisonment for from six weeks to a year, and the remainder acquitted.

Dispersed by Cossacks.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Political demonstrations, during which the crowds carried red flags and sang revolutionary songs, occurred in many places in St. Petersburg yesterday afternoon and night, necessitating the interference of the police and militia patrols. Street cars were held up and their occupants were compelled to uncover and salute the red flags.

The most serious affair happened near the Moscow railroad station where an officer, later identified as a Lieutenant, made a revolutionary speech to a crowd of 2,000 people. A detachment of police attempted to disperse the assemblage, but the people armed themselves with stones dug out from the streets and beat off the police and squads of Cossacks. Eventually the Cossacks were reinforced and fired a blank volley in the air, whereupon the rioters fled into neighboring courts. Only a few persons were seriously injured. The Lieutenant, whose name was Thom, was arrested and taken to the fortress.

A meeting which was addressed by orators from a window of the Constitutional Station Democratic Club, was dispersed by police, during which several persons were injured and a performance at the People's theatre was broken-up, the audience singing the "Marseillaise" as they dispersed.

The guards on the mail wagons are now armed with rifles owing to the increasing number of attacks made on these vehicles.

Six more newspapers of this city have been confiscated.

Appeal for Protection.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Landlords from the provinces where agrarian disorders are occurring, are flocking into Moscow and St. Petersburg appealing for troops to protect their property, without which they declare it is impossible for them to live on their estates.

Some of the papers regard Gen. Trepoff's announcement in favor of a ministry composed of Constitutional Democrats as a sham deathbed répétance designed to give the Emperor and court a breathing spell, while others consider it to be a confirmation of the report that Trepoff has fallen from favor and is trimming his sails to the prevailing breezes.

The Holy Synod has received strict instructions forbidding the printing establishments of monasteries publishing political tracts or in any way taking sides in the present struggle.

Highwayman Captured.

Fremont, Cal., July 9.—A dispatch to the Republican from Berenda announces that a highwayman who held up five stages near Ahwahnee on Saturday night has been captured. The name of the bandit or particulars of the capture could not be ascertained. The arrest was made at Wawona.

The first authentic information was received here last night when J. F. Tibbets, of Riverside, came out of the valley. The robbery occurred six miles from the stopping place at Ahwahnee, on the other side. At that place the road winds around the side of a hill.

IN DIFFICULTIES,
Oceanic Steamship Company Falls to Pay Semi-Annual Interest.

(Associated Press.)

San Francisco, July 9.—The Oceanic Steamship Company has failed to pay the July semi-annual interest of 2½ per cent. on its $2,005,000.

This is the culmination of the company's financial troubles which have extended over a period of about three years, and the holders of the bonds are now in a position to take legal action to foreclose their mortgage on the property of the company which consists of five steamers. Three of these vessels are in the Australian trade, one runs to Tahiti and fifth to Honolulu. The firm of J. D. Speckles & Brothers Company is the chief creditor, having advanced about $2,000,000 to the company to meet its annual deficits.

CLOUDBURST IN OHIO.

Property Damaged and Many People
Rendered Homeless.

(Associated Press.)

Wellsville, Ohio, July 9.—A cloudburst in the country just back of this city last night sent a torrent of water down Trotter's Run that caused heavy loss of country and city property. Over 200 homes and business houses were flooded and foundations weakened so that people would not remain in the houses.

SUNDAY CARS IN PRAIRIE CAPITAL

CITIZENS PLEASED WITH THE INNOVATION

The Mail Service Between Montreal and Liverpool—Fight Brought Lacrosse
Match to Close.

(Associated Press.)

Winnipeg, July 8.—For the first time in the city's history, Sunday cars were operated here to-day, and the innovation was most pleasing to citizens on account of the oppressive heat, registering 93 in the shade.

Free Fight.

Winnipeg, July 8.—The senior lacrosse game here on Saturday between Regina and Winnipeg resulted in a rough and tumble melee, at the close of which the Regina team left the field and the game was awarded to Winnipeg.

Mail Service.

Montreal, July 8.—As a result of a conference between the Canadian Pacific and Allan steamship lines and the post office authorities, it has been arranged that the steamships carrying the Canadian mails will sail from Montreal on Friday mornings and from Liverpool on Friday afternoons, the call at Moville for mails being cut out. It is expected that this will result in a considerable saving of time.

Jumped Overboard.

Selkirk, Man., July 8.—James Morton, a young man who was suffering from typhoid fever, contracted at Gull Harbor, Lake Winnipeg, jumped overboard while being brought here and was drowned.

KAISER IS FRIENDLY.

Working Hard to Restore Agreeable Relations With Great Britain.

Berlin, July 7.—The efforts, official and private, to bring about better relations between Germany and Great Britain, have had pronounced success. Emperor William is active outside of the regular channels in impressing Englishmen with the fact that it is his purpose to leave nothing undone on the German side to restore agreeable relations.

His Majesty met a British naval officer at a yacht club dinner at Kiel recently and talked with him half an hour on the needlessness and the harmfulness of bickering between Great Britain and Germany, and the determination on his part to preserve not only peace, but to cultivate good will and confidence.

The German journalists who recently visited England have since their return shed the light on the Weimar Free Box and rifled its contents. The bandit stopped the other stages in the same way, lining the bags and boxes up and keeping them covered with his gun.

When all the passengers, 45 in number, were lined up the bandit with a show of gravity selected a young and pretty girl as his first victim, and told her she was appointed collector. She hesitated a moment and then went about the work.

The girl did not come up to the robber's requirements, and he told her she must now make up her mind to take her place, requiring him to search the passengers.

Trondhjem, Norway, July 8.—Emperor William arrived here this afternoon. King Haakon immediately visited him and the two monarchs embraced cordially, kissing each other several times.

TRYED TO KILL SEATTLE JUDGE

G. MEADE EMORY TWICE SHOT BY STUDENT

Victim Not Expected to Recover—Infatuation For Girl Cause of the Shooting.

(Associated Press.)

Seattle, July 9.—G. Meade Emory, a lawyer, was shot, and possibly fatally wounded, at his home last night by Chester Thompson, a student and son of Wm. H. Thompson, formerly an attorney for the Great Northern railway. Thompson was infatuated with a niece of Emory's. The latter had asked her uncle to prevent Thompson from entering the house, and the shooting occurred while he was attempting to carry out this request.

In Critical Condition.

Seattle, Wm., July 9.—G. Meade Emory, the lawyer, who was shot by Chester Thompson, the university student; here on Saturday night is very low, and his death is expected at any time.

Young Thompson is a nephew of Maurice Thompson, the author.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer of Sunday says: "Mad infatuation for a young woman who had denied his suit led Chester Thompson, son of Wm. H. Thompson, a prominent Seattle attorney, to attempt, and perhaps accomplish, murder, and then to save himself from a vengeance which might have been inflicted by using two innocent babes as a shield for two hours until his gray-haired father arrived and prevailed upon the erring son to give himself into the custody of the officers of the law. The victim of the tragedy was G. Meade Emory, distinguished lawyer, who without any provocation whatsoever, was shot down on his own threshold by a lad barely out of his teens."

The innocent cause of the tragedy was Charlotte Whittlesey, daughter of Charles F. Whittlesey, former county treasurer, and a niece of the man whose life may be sacrificed for the mad passion of young Thompson. Utterly unconscious of any impending danger Judge Emory with his wife was sitting on the veranda of his residence at 9:15 o'clock Saturday evening and chatting with Attorney Will Keith and wife, who had dropped over for a neighborly call. All at once young Thompson dashed up the steps, and without speaking to those who were sitting on the porch, rushed into the hallway. Amazed at the peculiar actions, Judge Emory followed Thompson into the house, and the next moment three shots rang out.

Those on the veranda at first thought that the reports came from fireworks which had been left over from the Fourth, but a groan and a faint cry for help soon undeceived them. Keith rushed into the house and found Judge Emory lying prostrate in the hallway. To the hurried inquiry as to what was the matter Judge Emory replied: "I guess he got me." The stricken man was lifted up and carried into his study on the ground floor and laid on a couch.

"While or even before this was done, the assailant had dashed up the stairs and taken refuge in the room where the two little children of Judge and Mrs. Emory were asleep. Cautioning the children to make no noise and assuring them that they were in no danger, he sat down with the revolver still in his hand and waited for the arrival of the officers of the law.

"In the meanwhile four doctors were summoned and after medical attendance had been secured the police were notified.

"When Capt. Ward, Sergeant of Detectives, Tenant and Detectives Phillips and Bryne arrived they found that Thompson had barricaded himself in the room of the two children and refused admittance to all until his father could be notified of what had occurred.

"There was no direct threat, but a covert one, that if an attempt was made to break down the door and force an entrance that the lives of the two children, Tom and Nancy, 4 and 5 years of age, would be sacrificed, and he would also kill anyone who attempted to come in until he had seen his father.

"After a delay of nearly two hours the father of the would-be murderer was communicated with and arrived in an automobile. The father, bowed down with the grief which afflicts the family of Judge Emory, went to the door where his son had taken refuge and said: "Open the door." The answer was: "I am afraid." "Never mind, it is your father who is talking now, and you must do as I tell you."

"In a few minutes Thompson left the room by another entrance and was immediately arrested.

"He had been in love with Charlotte Whittlesey for several years, but that he had learned that his love for her was not returned. This statement, he said, had come from other people, however, and he had a right to call upon her, and at her wish, or whether he was being kept from her by others who were in league against him. Last night he telephoned to the Emory home, where Miss Whittlesey was staying, and Judge Emory answered the telephone. He asked that he might call during the evening, and after consulting the young woman, Judge Emory told him that it was his wish and also the wish of Miss Whittlesey that he should stay from the place Thompson visited the following day and made no attempt to hide anything.

"It was after this interview with Judge Emory that he started for the house. The reason he gave for armoring himself was that he wished to be prepared in case any trouble took place. That was his only reason for taking the revolver, and the only reason he gave for having the firearm in his possession.

"He then told the chief of police of his arrival at the house, how he had started up the stairs while Mr. and Mrs. Keith and Judge and Mrs. Emory were seated there. He told how Judge Emory attempted to stop him, and he said he believed the judge wanted to inflict great bodily harm. It was then that he drew his revolver and fired.

"He emptied his revolver and then rushed to a place of concealment fearing he would be lynched for his act."

Shortly after 2 o'clock a varied programme of sports took place under the direction of Ald. Fullerton, President Col. Wolfenden, Vice-President Canon Beanlands and others. SABBATH OBSERVANCE
BILL IN THE SENATE

Hon. R. W. Scott Moved the Second
Reading—Senator Choquette Attacked the Measure.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, July 9.—From the way the Senate has approached the Sabbath Observance Bill it looks as if parliament would prorogue without passing the bill.

Hon. R. W. Scott moved the second reading, and strongly supported the bill. Senator Choquette attacked the bill, and said if the clause forbidding games on Sunday for a fee were not struck out he would oppose the whole bill. This made Senator McMullen say that he could not see how Senator Choquette could keep the Sabbath holy and advocate horse racing on Sunday. Senator Choquette added that Senator McMullen was going too far.

CZAR SELCTS FIGHTING SOLDIERS

TO COMMAND RUSSIAN GUARD REGIMENT

Gen. Trepoff Says the Overwhelming Proportion of the Troops are Loyal.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—The inspiration for the disorders in the guards and other troops is clearly traced to the Socialist organization. The secret police are investigating the movements of M. Alladin, the peasant leader in the lower house, hoping to connect him with the mutiny of the first battalion of the Prohajensky regiment.

In the reorganization of the guard corps, the Emperor has replaced the "carpet knights" among the officers by fighting soldiers of the type of Major-General Letschitsky, the new commander of the first guard division, which includes the Prohajensky regiment. Letschitsky has spent almost his entire life in Turkistan and the Far East, commanding with distinction in China and Manchuria. He is an utter stranger at court.

The newspapers to-day print an open letter from the Leftish Social Democratic League of Dibrau in regard to the execution of Makovsky, a revolutionist who refused to go to the scaffold, protesting his innocence. The guards handled him so roughly that they broke his wrists and crushed in his chest. The man died before he reached the place of execution. His body, nevertheless, was strung up.

Gen. Trepoff, Talks.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—Gen. Trepoff, commandant of the Imperial palace, was interviewed at Peterhoff this evening regarding the situation in Russia. The train on which the correspondent went to Peterhoff was full of troops and the little town swarmed with soldiers. Gen. Trepoff's house was guarded by armed police, a necessary precaution, inasmuch as the man is the man best hated by the revolutionists, who make no secret of their intention of assassinating him at the first opportunity.

Talking of the general position of affairs, Gen. Trepoff depicted the report regarding Bialystok. When Prince Ursuloff spoke the other day in parliament regarding his supposed incitement any movement. It was easy to deduce from his remarks that he considered that Premier Gorenymkin's place was on the mid-starter bench in the lower house of parliament and that he should be there daily, ever watchful and ever ready to reply to his political opponents. The general referred in complimentary terms to the premier's intelligence and good intentions, qualities, however, not so much needed as initiative perception and prompt recognition of the inevitable. Gen. Trepoff gave the impression that he realized the necessity and advisability of the existing movement.

Discussing parliament, Gen. Trepoff said that at present it was simply being utilized as a revolutionary centre. "Look at the immunity allowed M. Alladin and persons of his stamp," said the general. "The labor group is given practically a free hand by the other parties for tactical purposes, forcing the hand of the government by exaggerating the strength of the extreme revolutionary elements; but should the moderates come into power, they would in my opinion, overthrow the Extremists who would then take their proper places in the political perspective.

The prevalent tone of parliament is destructive, but I dare believe it will become constructive or at least I hope so. It seems to me that the best solution is a ministry from the centre party as being the strongest party. I admit that the appointment of such a ministry would be a great risk, but the risk would be justified by the urgency of pacifying.

"The great power of the revolutionaries," Gen. Trepoff declared, "lies in their control of the press. Political passions are such that the most prudent of men have lost their heads and are raving like lunatics over Utopian schemes, which can only result in blood and flame."

"I cannot deny that the revolutionaries have won over nearly all.

The Men of Talent.

Even if moderate journals should be founded, their promoters would find no collaborators.

Furthermore, you know that the larger number of papers of St. Petersburg are in the hands of the Jews, and that most of the members of the staffs are Jews, while the reporters are generally revolutionary agitators. Then see to what extent the Jew is represented in parliament and say what will prevent an upheaval, practically, the work of Jews, through their cunning provocation of skillfully contrived posing an innocent victim of a blood-thirsty tyranny.

and when no one in authority speaks from the bomb, the knife and the pistol, is sheer nonsense."

Turning to the question of disaffection in the army, Gen. Trepoff declared positively his conviction that the overwhelming proportion of the troops are implicitly loyal and never will turn against their sovereign.

"The land question," Gen. Trepoff said, "is the question of questions. Personally I consider the government's land propositions quite acceptable. Possibly further concessions might be made after reasonable discussion by parliament. What is needed more than increased holdings is an improvement in the system of agriculture. The general introduction of this improvement will require at least a generation."

Consulting Engineer of the Grandy Pays a Visit to Rossland Camp.

Rossland, B. C., July 7.—The visit of William Yolen Williams, of Spokane, consulting engineer of the Grandy, during the week and his inspection of the California, Southern Belle, Mascot and other properties excited considerable interest here. The interest has largely centered in the California. Now that large and important chutes of ore have been discovered west of the Joske dike in the near territory owned by the Le Roil No. 2 and the Le Roil. It is reasonably certain that these chutes extend into the California ground, situated immediately west of the Annie, which later claim is owned by the Le Roil No. 2. Mr. Williams put in three or four days in an examination of properties here. It was stated that he was here in the interest of the Great Northern, which is anxious to secure the haulage of ore from here to Northport, as since the Jumbo ceased to ship, the Great Northern has not hauled a pound of ore from Rossland, a condition of affairs which is not pleasant for James J. Hill nor the road of which he is the master spirit. It is explained further that the plan includes the restarting of the Northport smelter. With the assurance of 200 to 300 tons of ore a day from Rossland and what custom ore could be secured from the mines of Republic, the Boundary and Idaho, the smelter could be kept in operation and the Great Northern secure the haulage of ore, coke and matte. It looks, therefore, as though Mr. Williams' visit would bear fruit.

Following are the shipments for the week: Centre Star, 1,155 tons; Le Roil, 250 tons; Le Roil No. 2, 4,450 tons; Le Roil No. 2 (milled), 1,200 tons; total for the week, 5,949 tons for the year, 176,365 tons.

NEW PROTOCOL.

Final Text of the Red Cross Convention.

Geneva, July 7.—The final text of the Red Cross convention whereby practically all nations of the civilized world agree upon rules in the matter of treatment of sick, wounded or dead members of the hospital corps and nurses in time of war, shows many changes from the antiquated convention of 1864. The protocol of this new convention gives until December 31, 1906, for the ratification of the convention by the governments concerned. The main features of the new treaty follow:

Chapter one is devoted to the wounded and sick. Each belligerent is required to respect and care for sick and wounded officers, soldiers and others attached officially to the enemy's army who fall into its hands. Should one belligerent be compelled to abandon the sick and wounded on the field and leave members of the hospital corps and nurses for this reason, the other belligerent must make arrangements to find all wounded and dead and to protect them against pillage before the final disposal of the bodies by burial or incineration. The occupant of the field is charged with a scrupulous examination of the bodies of the enemy. There shall be a reciprocal exchange of information relative to the dead and wounded, and valuables on the field of battle shall be gathered and transmitted to the other side.

MANUAL GARCIA DEAD.

Professor of Singing Passed Away in London at Age of 101.

Manuel Garcia, the veteran teacher of singing, is dead in London. In his 102nd year. He was born at Madrid, March 17, 1805, and was educated by private tutors in Spain, but has spent most of his life in England, as a professor of singing. His most famous pupil was Jenny Lind. He was the inventor of the laryngoscope, and received honors from many seats of learning.
He was a correspondent of the University of Stockholm, honorary doctor of Koenigsburg University, received the great gold medal for science from Germany, was a Chevalier of the Order of Merit, and the Royal Order of Alfonso XIII. of Spain. In 1840, he published a volume, School of Singing, and later read before the professors of the University of London a pamphlet on the physiology of the voice. Another of his publications was "Hints on Singing." In 1905, on the occasion of his hundredth birthday, he was made an honorary commander of the Royal Victorian Order. His daughter, Madame Viardot-Garcia, who studied under Liszt, made her debut in London in 1839, and retired from the stage in 1862. She survives and is living in Paris.

A SERMON TO LOCAL ORANGEMEN

WAS PREACHED SUNDAY
BY REV. DR. CAMPBELLDiscourse Dealing With History of the Order and Canada's Great Dominion.

On Sunday forenoon at First Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Campbell preached the annual sermon to the Orange lodges of this city, taking as his text: "The land thou gavest unto our fathers," (I Kings, 8:34).

He said it was studiously circulated that the object of the Orange organization was to oppose Roman Catholicism, and read the following extracts from the declaration of "The Loyal Orange Association of British North America":

"The Loyal Orange Association is formed by persons desirous of supporting,
to the utmost of their power, the principles and practices of the Christian religion, to maintain the laws and constitution of the country, afford assistance to distressed members of the association, and otherwise promote such laudable and benevolent purposes as may tend to the due ordering of religion and Christian charity, and the supremacy of law, order and constitutional freedom."

"Discarding an intolerant spirit, the association demands as an indispensable qualification—without which the greatest and wealthiest may seek admission in vain—that the candidate shall be deemed incapable of persecuting or injuring anyone on account of his religious opinions; the duty of every Orange man being to aid and defend all loyal subjects of every religious persuasion in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights."

"The association is constituted upon the broadest principles of national freedom, it takes its stand upon the glorious principles of the Revolution of 1868; it lays its foundation in the field of British liberty, it disclaims the badge of faction, and knows no emblem save The Altar and the Throne."

Rev. Dr. Campbell, continuing, said:

"The order was organized in the Motherland at the time of the Reformation, and transplanted in Ireland after the revolution of William, Prince of Orange, a man who made the name of Britain to be honored wherever the Union Jack floats on the breeze. He established evangelical religion with liberty of speech and freedom of conscience, in the United Kingdom. No society has done more for civil and religious liberty than the Orange association. It has been misrepresented and opposed, yet it spread and flourished, until it now counts its members by millions. In British Columbia alone it has 3,000 members, and in the Dominion of Canada 500,000."

"It is sometimes said that the circumstances which led to the establishment of the order in the Old Country do not obtain on this side of the Atlantic, and, therefore, the society should not have been established here. It causes strife, and should not have crossed the ocean. Vigilance for civil and religious liberty was never more needed in the Motherland than it is now in his new country, which is passing through a formative stage of character, with its heterogeneous population drawn from almost every country in Europe, and exercising a marvelous diversity of shades of civil rights and religious liberty. If strife arises by virtue of the existence of the Orange order, it is those who refuse to grant equal rights in church and state to all that must be held responsible, for the foundation of the society is civil and religious liberty, freedom of speech, liberty of conscience, equal rights to all, ask it for nothing which it is not willing to grant to others. It interferes with no man's religious opinions, be he Protestant or Roman Catholic, atheist or infidel."

"We possess the best form of government with which any country has ever been blessed. The excellencies of the British constitution with its self-expanding energies are ours. We are members of the great British Empire, and a Dominion organized with every facility for self-government. We have an army of our own, and we have our own customs. Each province has its own parliament, a legislature, the members of which are elected by the free and independent electors to manage its affairs. Over this is the Dominion parliament and senate, with a representative of His Majesty presiding over all. While we stand in the relation of a colony to the Mother Country, we have free institutions, and are to all intents and purposes independent. We are heirs equally with those who live in the British Isles to the glories and traditions of the British Empire. The victories of Crecy and Agincourt, the achievements of Blake and Nelson, the triumphs of Marlborough and Wellington are ours.
Canadians have fought side-by-side with Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen on the battlefields of India, and the burning sands of Africa, in the Soudan, the Crimea and the Transvaal.
They fought bravely in the army of the Empire at the battles of Alma, Balaklava and Inkerman, of Omdur-man, Tel-el-Kebir and Pardesburg.
From homes in this city gallant young men went to South Africa to maintain the honor of the British Empire. They bravely fought on Kopeand veild, and now humble graves mark the resting place in the Transvaal of not a few of our noble sons.
In war and peace Canada will stand by the Motherland, and the Union Jack and Maple Leaf will float together over this wide Dominion. We are not burned with a standing army, yet we have the mighty army and navy of Great Britain to help us to guard our shores, protect our homes and defend our rights. But let us hope that the day will soon come when international arbitration shall be settled not by the sword and the bullet and the booming cannon, but by the more Christian method of arbitration:
When the war-drum throbs no longer,
And the battle flag is furled,
In the parliament of men
The federation of the world."

"On the youth of Canada rests the future of this great country of marvelous possibilities. Let them build this nation in fear of Him who gave us this great heritage, and with loyalty to him who sits as our beloved sovereign on the throne of the British Empire.
They will rise in the great empire of which they form a part only in proportion as they follow the Divine word, and obey the Divine law."

tries of Europe are flocking to this

LIVING TOO HASTILY CANADIAN WOMEN BREAKDOWN Irregularities and Female Derange- ments Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness; and all sun-shines are driven out of the house, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—womb trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered for four years with what the doctors called inflammation of the fallopian tubes, which is a most distressing female disease, understanding the consideration and importance of it for me. If you will believe me, it was a year ago when I had begun taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and had noticed the sunken eyes, sallow complexion and general emaciated condition, and compared that person with me as I am to-day, and well, and well I am. I am so well now, indeed, that I feel thankful to you and your wonderful medicine which restored me to new life and health in five months. My friends all marvel at the change it has made in me, but none can appreciate it better than I can myself."—Miss Irene Hopgood, 1023 Sandwich

NEUROTIC CRIMINALS.

Sufferers from neurotic or "emotional insanity" are quite active across the line just now, and not a few victims have paid the penalty of the tendency with which the public views the crimes of these offenders against law, order and the peace of the community. Take the case of Mr. Thaw of New York, who heroically and magnanimously vindicated the honor of his most honorable household. Does any one imagine that Mr. Thaw will ever be called to the scaffold or the electric chair to atone for his crime or as a warning to the multitudes who consider themselves bound by the same high ethical code? Thaw was suffering from "emotional insanity" at the time he shot White. The court will go through all the "motions of putting" Thaw on trial. But no jury picked from the precincts of the Bronx or Manhattan will find him guilty. He will come up for "trial" once or twice, or perhaps three times. He will languish in goal possibly for a year or two, in the meantime posing as the hero of all the "high rolling" fraternity, but in the end his course will be vindicated by public opinion, and he will come forth renewed and strengthened in his purpose to assume the guardianship of the honor of any other household he may set up. Nevertheless Mr. Thaw has given an effective warning to the multitude of men who "love the life of Broadway."

And Thaw's case is but a sample of almost everyday occurrences in the social life of the United States. The circumstances may differ somewhat, but the results are the product of the false standards that have been set up by the neurotic or emotionally insane. There are two such cases now engrossing the attention of the guardians of law and order in the city of Seattle. There is an unpardonable offence for which the law is held by public opinion to provide no suitable penalty, hence the guardians of the honor of households are held to be justified in certain cases in taking the law into their own hands and in executing summary vengeance. One of these crimes was committed somewhere in the state of Washington, and public opinion looked to some one in the family whose honor had been tarnished to assume the role of executioner. The task was not shirked; but it involved a crime against the Commonwealth, and now the Commonwealth is going through the farce of trying the criminal and vindicating the "majesty" of the law. The murderer, say the lawyers for the defense, was not responsible for his act of assassination, because at the time he acted he, like the heroic and high-minded Thaw, was a victim of "emotional insanity."

Now the public has been furnished with the natural and inevitable consequence of this lax and perverted view of the responsibility of the individual to the state for offences against the common weal. A youth in the frenzy of what he conceived to be love, or came "emotional insane" and shot down an individual whom he thought to be obstructing the pathway along which he longed with the ardor of Young America to pursue happiness. In this latter case one life of unquestioned value to the community has apparently been cut off, a wife will be left a widow and a family of young children fatherless and unprovided for. And in the face of these various crimes against peace and good order, confronted as the community is with the consequences of its false ideas of morality and its false ethical standards, there are newspapers which hold that it is questionable whether the scaffold or the electric chair is an effective deterrent not only of the sins of the emotionally insane against society, but of any form of murder whatever. We venture to assert that if that highly honorable gentleman Mr. Hayes Thaw had observed the gallows staring him in the face, looming up large on his mental horizon as it would have done if he had upheld the honor of his household under the British flag, and with a prosaic and unromantic British jury sitting upon his case, he would have tried hard and would have succeeded in keeping his murderous insane emotional impulses under control. Furthermore, if the American tendency to make heroes of the condemned criminals were checked, the result would undoubtedly be the saving of many useful lives to the community and punishment commensurate with their crimes for the majority of offenders.

ATTRACTIOMS OF METROPOLITAN LIFE.

Life in great cities doubtless has its attractions, but still the vast congregations of humanity in the business and pleasure centres of the world are subject to disabilities and penalties that are far from pleasant to contemplate. During the heated and humid spells of summer the residents of New York, Chicago and other cities of the United States who have not attained to full physical vigor find life a burden sometimes almost intolerable, frequently impossible, and hundreds die as a direct result of the more than torrid condition of the atmosphere of the sun-baked brick buildings in the congested streets. People who live in a place like Victoria, where summer is merely a pleasant dream, and the atmosphere a delight to the lungs, simply can have no conception of the torture to life which follows in the train of the hot spells which periodically descend upon the great cities of the East. Nor are the smaller cities immune. But in the less crowded centres there are usually refuges to which the citizens can flee from the consuming rays of the sun and the depression of the accompanying humidity. Here we do not comprehend the significance of the prediction of another period of fervent heat. Our nights are always cool and pleasant, bringing undisturbed repose and nature's refreshing balm of sleep.

In the East the nights are more dreary than the days because of the impossibility of slumber in the hot and close rooms of the crowded tenements. In order that our readers may form an approximate idea of life in a great city in the dreaded summer season, let us consider briefly some of the incidents described in the columns of a New York newspaper. The deaths of four infants as a direct consequence of the heat were matters requiring merely passing notice. Hundreds of persons were prostrated on the streets while pursuing their avocations and hurried off to the hospitals. One man fell from a fire escape, the one point on which he could obtain free circulation of air, and fractured his skull. Two women and two men, one of the latter a policeman, became insane and had to be first confined and then driven to an asylum. Eight thousand persons, it was estimated, slept on the beach at Coney Island one night. Whole families from the East Side were there, and special police details were sent out to protect the sleepers from thieves. Seeking relief from the heat in their tenement homes, thousands of East Siders stormed the public bathhouses in that district as soon as they were opened. At two places the crowds were so large and eager to reach the cooling showers that the police reserves had to be called from the Eldridge street and Union Market stations to restore order. Long before 5 o'clock the street in front was packed tight with men and women. There are 75 showers and four tubs in the bathhouse, so that 85 persons could bathe at a time. Twenty minutes were allowed to each one, and at the expiration of that time everyone in the baths was put out, and a squad of the unwashed was let in. If there were any who tried to remain longer than the allotted time, the toe of a rubber boot, impelled by a sturdy keeper, made them realize that there were in the hot street others who wanted a bath as much as they did. But the crowd was so large that Keeper Mulvey found his force unable to control it. Regular lines could not be preserved, and the people began to fight. At last Mulvey telephoned to police headquarters, and asked for help. The message was sent on to the Eldridge street station, and Sergeant Schulman sent over six of the reserves. These officers, under Roundman Quirk, formed a double line along the sidewalk, reaching to and around the corner of Delaney street. But they had no sooner herded the people into line than some of the children lost their fathers and mothers in the round-up, cried for their parents, and the mothers and fathers broke out of the line to rescue them. This finally upset the line, and the policemen had hard work to straighten it out. The rush continued for several hours, and some of those in the line farthest from the door had to wait more than an hour on the hot pavement, with the sun beating higher over their heads, before they reached the cooling showers. At the East Eleventh street baths, in charge of Andrew B. Keating, there were similar scenes. The neighborhood is probably the most congested in Manhattan, and the suffering from the heat during the night had been widespread. So great was the crowd, as soon as the baths opened, that Keating had to send to the Union market station for help. A squad of reserves responded and the turbine experiment of the Cunard people before proceeding with the work on their projected liners.

An American in a moment of frankness has told the people of Great Britain that there is something more to be dreaded than Chicago-binned meat. And of the millions who voluntarily submit to this torture there are few who believe life away from the haunts to which they have become familiar and in which all their interests lie are centred, would be tolerable.

Canada is now coming into her own, and she is going to get in full measure and running over Canada, one of several journals now published in London in the interests of this country, and making money for itself incidentally, says many English papers have quoted our statement that "the Canadian is, to-day the heaviest and strongest man of all the white races." A gentleman who has lived several years in Canada, and had many opportunities of contrasting its inhabitants with those of other lands, writes that he could quite endorse the above opinion. He had often been struck when in Toronto by the number of tall and fine-looking men, and when the Canadian contingent of volunteers was got together for the South African war they had no difficulty whatever in getting men well over the standard of 5 ft. 7 in. In Ontario the average height is about 5 ft. 8 in., and in Nova Scotia it is somewhat higher. As regards height alone, the Canadian is thus apparently on a level with the men of Great Britain, where the average is as follows: England, 5 ft. 7 in.; Scotland, 5 ft. 8 in.; Ireland, 5 ft. 8 in.; Wales, 5 ft. 6 in. The tallest men in Europe are in the southwest corner of Scotland-Ayr, Wigton, Kirkcudbright and Dumfries-where the average is 5 ft. 10 in.; and a line drawn across the map to this point from Norfolk will take the men with the greater number of inches from their shorter brethren, who occupy the southern half. In other nations the average heights are as follows: France, 5 ft. 5 in.; Germany, 5 ft. 6 in.; Italy, 5 ft. 3 in.; Russia, 5 ft. 4½ in.; Spain, 5 ft. 5 in.; Scandinavia, 5 ft. 6 in.; Portugal, 5 ft. 4 in.

The Hamburg-American Steamship Company, it is said, will build a ship larger than the two new Cunarders, and faster also. The German engineers have not yet proclaimed their faith in the turbine principle, consequently if they put new boats in commission they will be fitted with reciprocating engines, and what monsters they must needs be to drive ships over eight hundred feet long at a rate exceeding twenty-five knots an hour. We beg to express our doubts. The Germans are a practical people, intensely so, and they will probably await the results of

POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

A NON-LEAKABLE MIDDLE INK JOINT

A strong and absolutely non-leakable ink joint is placed in the middle of the barrel away from the finger grasp, so that it is impossible for the hand or fingers to come into contact with it, no matter how the pen may be held in writing.

NO SWEATING OR OVERFLOW OF INK

In pens provided with the large over-fitting cap the condensation of ink evaporation, called sweating, and the frequent overflow of the ink on to the finger grasp under the cap, has always been a cause of much annoyance. This is avoided in the STANDARD FLANGE PEN by reason of the joint made at the extreme mouth of the holder.

A PERFECT FINGER GRASP

The Flange at the end of the holder makes a comfortable finger grasp.

THE EVER-FITTING CAP

The additional bearing given by the flange fitting into the cap causes the cap to fit securely at all times. It cannot be loosened by falling or come off in the pocket by being jarred or pressed against.

GENERAL EXCELLENCE OF QUALITY

In addition to the above, there is a superior excellence of finish and writing quality that makes the Standard Flange the best Fountain Pen ever produced.

A gentleman bathing close to Mrs. Marshall's landing at the Gorge on Saturday came near losing a diamond ring valued at about $30. The ring dropped into the water, and for a time the parting seemed permanent. Fortunately there were some boys bathing in the vicinity, and they being informed, the search commenced. As is well-known to swimmers frequenting that part of the Arm, the water off the landing is pretty deep, and a current running strong makes diving with accuracy very difficult. Under these circumstances many would have given up the ring as gone beyond recovery. But one of the boys, Dennis Peacock, did not think so. He was told of the approximate location. He dived twice without success, but the third time brought the sparkling diamond to the surface, highly delighting the owner, and incidentally performing a feat that would be difficult to beat in the water.

What Other People Think

ANARCHISM AND MR. HAWTHORN THWAITE

To the Editor:—It is not good for a community that men with extreme views should rule. British Columbia is essentially a country needing extensive co-operation from capitalistic, and everyone who has the interests of the province at heart, should realize that the capital and existing interests are treated fairly. It is difficult to realize that anyone should threaten to haul down the "Old Flag" from our government buildings and hoist up the red flag of revolution, especially in British Columbia. Mr. Hawthorn Thwaite, who is reported to have advocated such a procedure, is one of the brainiest men in the province. There are several people who would find it possible to agree with him on many points, but are shocked by his recklessness and extravagant threats, which in British Columbia are unnecessary. The people already have the power in their own hands. It is government of the people, for the people. If we have not got what we require, it is our duty to take the earliest opportunity to dispense with the services of our representatives.

Rapid changes are not good for any community, and evolution must necessarily be slow. We must improve existing conditions step by step; we may develop government ownership by degrees. We may prevent centralization of capital by natural means, truth and justice. There is no need to cut off the heads of capitalists or to burn down their warehouses, offices and mansions. We must recognize that we have not the monopoly of unselfish righteousness, and by our errors we may do more to injure our cause than to help it. Our enemies have done much during the last decade toward the advancement of true Socialism by their own acts, showing how huge organizations may be successfully manipulated. By their huge combines and monopolies they have excluded free co-operation and have furnished a powerful argument against their continuance.

Has it ever occurred to so-called Conservatives and Liberals that many of them are Socialists at heart, and that it is only the want of tact of such men as Mr. Hawthorn Thwaite which prevents the realization of many of the best and far-reaching reforms? If he and his friends were to control the destiny of British Columbia there would be half-hours for several of the capitalists, and anyone who ventured to differ from them.

Such men as Mr. Hawthorn Thwaite have their minds in a mould more often labelled "destructive" rather than "constructive". The people should see to it that all those who abuse and threaten those who do not agree with them should be treated with silent contempt.

The day will come when we will own the railways, telephones, gas, water and electric light, power and tram lines. Life and fire insurance and compensation for the working man, together with old age pensions, are questions which are not so remote as some persons would imagine.

We need good roads to open up the province, and if the government will make the roads the people will soon put on their own motors, and distribute the necessities of civilization. All unselfish, thinking persons will agree that no true Socialism can be based upon fraud and wickedness, and to take from any person what is theirs according to the law of the land is a crime. Large companies will have to give up their business, but the state will give them due and honest compensation, and their money will ultimately become re-invested for the benefit of all, under new conditions.

SPRING RIDGE SAND PITS

To the Editor:—A question which has puzzled me, and for which I can find no logical answer, is: Why, oh why are sand pits allowed in the heart of this city? Is there another such instance in a civilized country? Everyone recognizes that it is a great drawback to this vicinity—a public nuisance, a blotmark, as it were, on the fair face of our city. Why does it remain? They must be filled up in time. Why not now? Have we a ward representative, and where in the world is he? Mr. Editor, you would scarce believe it, but the fact is there are three blocks running west from Fernwood, with practically no road at all. Some people have the nerve to call it a street. Two blocks are monopolized by sand pit owners, and the third one would make a fairly good trail.

This is certainly a ridiculous state of affairs here. People have been living year after year subjecting to this inconvenience, and yet apparently no move is made to abate the nuisance. It is a hardship that seems wholly uncalled for and a subject our local representatives might well take up with the residents of Spring Ridge. I referred to this matter some time ago, and suggested the filling in of those sand pits instead of allowing fresh ones to be opened up. Mr. Editor, if through the columns of your valuable paper we can submit to the powers that be the wretched state of affairs as they now exist because of those sand pits with a view to getting the relief to which we are entitled, then the people of this neglected locality will be forever grateful.

FIELD DAY FOR THE TRAPSHOOTERSLENFESTY SHOOTING IN SPLENDID FORM

Captured First Place in Curtis & Harvey and other Competitions—Sporting Notes.

There was a large gathering of trap shooters at the Willows yesterday, and all participated in and witnessed the competition announced to take place under the auspices of the Capital Gun Club. The programme included a number of interesting events, but that which attracted most attention among competitors and spectators alike, was the contest for the Curtis & Harvey trophy. It was opened by between thirty and forty enthusiasts, and the marksmanship displayed by the leaders was particularly good, the winner, W. N. Lenfesty, making a score of 44 out of a possible 50. Shooting was continued throughout the day. When the official programme was completed in the forenoon, the majority of the participants took their lunches in the vicinity, and, returning to the traps, spent the major part of the afternoon in team competitions and sweepstakes matches. Although the shooting was exceptionally fine, it being announced that the records which issued will show a general average of 50 per cent. or over. In all there were some 2,500 birds trapped; easily the largest number in the history of the Willows traps.

The shoot yesterday morning opened with a preliminary merchandise auction, the prizes being offered by the Dominion Cartridge Co. The first was a six and a quarter pound tin of Empire powder, the second a three-pound tin of the same ammunition, and the third a two-pound tin of the powder mentioned. Only one condition was imposed, and that was that competitors should use the ammunition offered as the awards. There were a number of entries, and the shooting was splendid. It provoked much applause, the performance of W. N. Lenfesty in breaking twenty-five out of a possible bringing upon him the congratulations of all enthusiasts on the grounds. The principal scores follow: 1st, W. N. Lenfesty 45 straight; 2nd, C. Pears, 22; 3rd, divided on a score of 26 between F. W. Stevenson, W. H. Adams, T. Dick and E. McDougal.

Then the Curtis & Harvey event was called, and practically everyone present boasting of a fire-arm stepped to the front. The conditions were 50 birds, 30 at unknown angles and 20 at unknown angles reverse traps, use of both barrels permitted. The scores follow: 1st, W. N. Lenfesty, 44; 2nd, O. Weller and E. McDougal, 41; 3rd, C. Pears, 40; 4th F. W. Stevenson, 39; 5th, C. P. Stamford and W. Peden, 38; 6th, E. Peden, 36; 7th, T. Peden, 35.

In the Dominion Cartridge Co.'s medal competition there were almost an equal number of aspirants. The shoot was at 25 birds unknown angles. A few of the high scores are appended: 1st, W. N. Lenfesty and W. Peden, with a score of 22; 2nd, Charles Pears, 21; 3rd, F. W. Stevenson, 20. In the shoot off for first place at 10 birds W. N. Lenfesty defeated W. Peden, breaking 9 to his opponent's 7 birds.

As may be seen by the foregoing, Messrs. Lenfesty, Pears, Adams and Stevenson shot well in every competition in which they participated, maintaining a high average. With their names should be coupled that of O. Weller and others of the Victoria Gun Club who, although they did not succeed in capturing any of the official prizes, won several of the private matches and always ranked among the leaders in the contests in which they took part.

The next event for the Curtis & Harvey competition will take place on the 19th of August at Langford Plains under the auspices of the Victoria Gun Club. The contests for the Peters cup also will be shot off some time in August. A meeting of representatives of the two local clubs will be held some time this week to come to some mutually satisfactory arrangements as to date. Another trophy, it is announced, has been presented for competition among local marksmen. It has been offered by the Dupont Powder Co., of Wilmington, Delaware. The conditions have not yet been outlined.

THE TURF.

CAPT. JOHN PRAISED

The Edmonton Bulletin says: "The feature of the day was the wonderful performance of Capt. John W. G. Stevenson's horse from Victoria. Capt. John is a 5-year-old, and, although he has been trained heretofore, this is his first appearance on any authorized track. His work yesterday is to be taken as any criterion, he is certainly going to become better known on the turf in this country. He was entered in two races, the green trot or pace, which he won in two heats, and the 2½ trot, which he won in three out of four heats, making the wonderful record for a green horse of going 6 miles, winning 5 heats, never breaking but once, and getting inside 2½ every heat. The only time that Capt. John was really crowded for a burst of speed all day was in the second heat of the green race, which he made in 2:34. This gives him a mark, but the driver, who displayed re-bination work, that had the Westminister defence guessing. Every man on the home team went into the game determined to do his best and they certainly deserve great credit for their masterly work on the field in Saturday's match. That the team had been drilling hard was evident by the fact that there was some system and the players worked consistently, while it is doubtful if a better brand of lacrosse has ever been played here for some time. There was no erratic passing that has marked their work on previous occasions, the defence was always ready to carry the ball down to the home players and the men on that end of the field went straight for the flags with the ball when they had it in their possession. This is the kind of play that counts and the players on the Maple Leaf have demonstrated that they can travel in the fastest class in this province. For three-quarters the home aggregation out-played the visitors, and put up an exhibition of the national pastime that was surprising to many of the old-timers. They held the ball down on the New Westminster goal the major portion of the match, and the manner in which they passed the square round was amazing. In fact one who witnessed the recent match between the Vancouver and Maple Leaf teams the improvement shown by the hill team was surprising."

"The match was free from rough work, and the referees, Dave Smith and Wells Gray, had an easy afternoon. Only three men were sent off during the match, and these offences were not of a serious nature."

LEAGUE STANDING.

The present standing of the Mainland clubs competing for the B. C. championship follows:

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

TO TOUR NEW ZEALAND.

According to word received by the Canadian Australian Rugby Association a few days ago the New Zealand Football Association has offered to pay its expenses of an all-English eleven to New Zealand next year, and the invitation has been accepted by the Old Country players. It is the intention of the latter organization to travel by the All-Red route, which will bring them through Vancouver and Victoria, and matches will probably be played with Canadian teams.

ATHLETICS.

ANNUAL SPORTS.

To-morrow the annual sports under the auspices of the Collegiate school will be held on the grounds adjoining the Laurels. They will commence at 2 o'clock, and the programme will include a race for old boys' distance 20 yards. All eligible are cordially invited to compete.

CRICKET.

VICTORIA TEAM WON.

At the Jinglee hospital grounds on Saturday afternoon a match was played between the Victoria team and an eleven captained by Dr. Mezines. It resulted in a win for the regular team by a margin of 36 runs. L. S. V. York, when going to bat for Victoria, showed up to something like his old form. He held his place for 87 runs, the side retiring for 121 runs. The most successful bowler for the scratch team was C. Schubener, who obtained 5 wickets at a cost of 33 runs. The game was witnessed by a number of spectators and proved exceedingly interesting.

THE RIFLE.

REGULAR SHOOT.

There was a large attendance at the regular weekly shoot of the Fifth Regiment C. A. Rifle Association held at Clover Point range on Saturday afternoon. The high wind which prevailed interfered to some extent with the shooting. One of the most pleasing features of the competition was the scoring of the second-class shots, many of whom did as well as the more experienced.

The programme was made somewhat more interesting by the shooting off of a tie for Capt. Angus' spoon. Corp. Strachan and Parker and Gr. Neil participated.

The conditions were five shots and a sighter at 60 yards. After a contest in which the honors varied, Corp. Parker won with a score of 19 out of 25.

The spoon winners for June follow:

Gr. W. Duncan, 76.

Mr. Bishard's spoon, 300, 500, 600 yards.

Sergt. G. S. Carr, 3d.

Captain Angus' spoon, 800, 900, 1,000 yards.

Corp. C. Bayes, 67.

Captain Angus' spoon, 300, 500, 600 yards.

Corp. R. Parker, 82.

The best ten scores for the day are appended:

Sergt. G. S. Carr.....	28	31	29	88
Corp. R. Strachan.....	33	30	25	87
H. S. Richardson.....	32	23	23	87

FOR PRACTICE.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings Clover Point range will be open, according to the acting secretary, for the benefit of those wishing to participate in the annual regatta to be held throughout the whole 80 minutes of play, and the smart work of the homedivision was a revelation to the spectators, of whom there was a big turnout.

To be brief and to the point, the New Westminster team had a lucky day and five of the nine goals scored by the visitors were unanswered. McLean had his off-day and they counted in the score. On the other hand every goal tallied by the local team, was done after pretty com-

PREPARING FOR REGATTA.

The representatives of the James Bay Athletic Association to compete in the annual N. P. A. A. O. regatta to be held on the 25th and 26th of the present month in Nelson are training faithfully. Members of the "pig foot" are gradually getting into condition, and by the time they are called upon to take their place in the regatta for the "pig foot" cup should be in the pink of condition. Their coach, Dan O'Sullivan, recognises the necessity of having his men trained to just the right pitch, neither over nor under working and he is safe to say that the boys will be feeling in racing fettle when the all important occasion arrives. As is usual with the J. B. A. A. management, it is their intention not only to enter a four, but to place crews in all the other championships, and, what is more to the point, they appear to be confident that more than one trophy will return to Victoria. In the meantime a special committee is hard at work raising funds to defray the transportation expenses. It is to be hoped that those approached will respond generously so as not to hamper the club in its efforts to uphold the reputation already attained among the aquatic organizations of the Pacific Coast.

TALK OF A RIVAL LINE TO ENGLAND

TO BE ESTABLISHED BY A. WEIR AND CO.

Scow on Dallas Foresbare Completely Wrecked--The Athenian Was in Collision.

Andrew Weir & Co. of Glasgow, intend to make an attempt to break into the ocean freight carrying trade between the United Kingdom and this coast now enjoyed by the Blue and White Funnel lines operated by Alfred Holt & Co., says the Vancouver Province. The vessel of the firm has now on the beach at Glasgow the first vessel of the fleet, which is to be placed on the trade between Glasgow, Liverpool, Vancouver, Seattle, and San Francisco.

According to information received in this city the new line will be operated via the Suez canal and Oriental ports, so are the vessels of the Holt lines.

The reason for running the line south as far as include San Francisco is that it is realized that the competition of the Holt lines will be hard to fight, and as it does not touch at points below Puget Sound, Andrew Weir & Co. expect to be able to pick up some unoccupied business in the port to help the venture pay in its infancy.

The steamship, which will make the first sailing to this coast is the Sovereign.

She is one of the well-known Eric fleet, which consists of some thirteen vessels, all of them freighters of large capacity. Gradually a large number of these vessels will be pressed into the trade if it is found to pay.

If the Victoria Automobile Club wishes to secure visits from the many autoists from the Sound who are taking advantage of island roads, something should be done at once in the way of obtaining a flat rate from the C. P. R. for bringing autos here from Seattle.

The excursion rate of $5 granted by the company running the Walalcole from that port to Nainaimo is drawing a large amount of attention to the Coal City as an auto centre. The Nainaimo Free Press of Friday said: "Nainaimo's fame as the centre of good automobile roads is travelling. Yesterday Mr. Cissna, a well known Bellingham banker, accompanied by his family, arrived in the city on a visit to his brother-in-law, James Caldwell. Mr. Cissna made the trip from Bellingham to Vancouver in his big Winton touring car. He brought the car over to Nainaimo on the 29th, and before returning home will make the runs to Alberni and Victoria."

PUEBLA LATE.
R. P. Ritth & Company, local agents of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, have been advised that the steamer City of Puebla will not leave for the Golden Gate until Wednesday evening. She will therefore be one day late in leaving, owing to a delay on the Sound.

With regard to the northbound steamer, the Umatilla, the Victoria agents have not yet been notified whether she has left the Bay City today. The Umatilla and City of Puebla are the only steamers of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company that are yet operating on the Victoria and Frisco route.

LOST A SCOW.
The scow which last week drifted ashore on the rocks of the Dallas-road foreshore is a complete wreck. A section of the craft was towed in by the steamer Dominion on Sunday, but its value is so small that it can hardly be placed against the total loss. The scow was owned by C. A. Goodwin, the proprietor of the Dominion, and it broke off on Friday night. At the time it was being towed out from Albert Head with a big load of sand. After it had been loaded it was found to leak, but by keeping the pumps of the Dominion going the water was kept down in the hold, and all was proceeding well until some distance off the Dallas road a heavy sea struck it. The waves sent the scow over at the head, and the stern up in the air the towing line snapped and in the dark the barge was soon lost. She drifted to the rocks and was there pounded to pieces. The loss of the barge and sand represent six or seven hundred dollars.

ATHENIAN DAMAGED.

The C. P. R. steamship, Athenian, which was due to arrive from the Orient on the 21st inst., will probably not do so until some weeks later. News from Yokohama, under date of July 7th, reports that the British tank steamer Apache collided with the C. P. R. vessel, inflicting injuries which necessitated both ships returning to port for repairs. The Apache was unable to proceed, and was compelled to return to port, and the Athenian sustained her damages or those which the Athenian sustained has not yet been received.

THE FIRST PRACTICE.
The new Dominion government lifeboat was given a trial with Capt. J. C. Voss in charge on Saturday afternoon. The craft was taken from Esquimalt into the roads, where the surface of the water was a little rough. Then it was taken into the harbor, and to the Gorge, and then back to Esquimalt, where the boat is kept in one of the naval sheds. During the run the muscles of the men were well tested. Captain Voss at different stages addressed the men on the proper handling of the boat, and altogether the cruise was a most satisfactory one. Captain Voss' crew on Saturday was composed as follows: F. Hatchet, F. Jones, W. Hibbs, Charles J. White, T. Wilson, William Worth, E. T. Laurie, Paul Boynton, H. Laing and W. H. Spurrier, with W. S. Duncan and W. H. E. Blackdale.
